

Free Museum Sundays in OKC

Downtown holiday visitors and families are invited for a day of culture, art and history for free during American Fidelity Free Museum Sundays. Visit the Gaylord-Pickens Oklahoma Heritage Museum and the Oklahoma City National Memorial Museum for free every Sunday from 1 p.m. - 6 p.m. November 30 through December 28.

Open since May 2007, the Gaylord-Pickens Museum was named the 2008 Best New Attraction in Oklahoma by the Oklahoma Tourism Industry Association and a 2008 Nickelodeon Parents' Pick for Teens. Focused on telling Oklahoma's story through its people, the Museum's high-tech, interactive exhibits showcase individuals like country music superstar Reba McEntire, aviation innovator Wiley Post and BMX superstar Mat Hoffman. In preparation for Free Museum Sundays, the Museum will open a new children's area called "I am Oklahoma" in which kids can don costumes to emulate their favorite Oklahomans represented in the Museum.

In addition to offering tours on Free Museum Sundays, the Museum will present a children's hour from 2 to 3 p.m. each Sunday. Children's activities will include a story hour, during which notable Oklahomans will read stories about state heritage, and Santa Claus will make special appearances on Dec. 14 and

21. In addition, holiday movies will be shown each Sunday at 3:15 p.m. For more information visit www.oklahomaheritage.com.

The Oklahoma City National Memorial & Museum was created to honor those who were killed, those who survived and those changed forever by the 1995 bombing of the Alfred P. Murrah Federal Building in Oklahoma City. The Memorial and Museum are dedicated to educating visitors about the impact of violence, informing about events surrounding the bombing, and inspiring hope and healing through lessons learned by those affected. The special exhibit Reporting Terrorism lets visitors explore the media experience and how it was shaped by the Oklahoma City bombing.
